You can control what personal data Facebook shares with us by changing your Facebook privacy settings.

Health applications

If you use health applications such as the Apple iOS Healthkit and Motion & Fitness or Google Fit, you may opt-in to allow our App to provide data regarding the amount of time you meditated with our App to your health application for display. Any information you instructed us to share with such health application, is subject to the privacy statement of the provider of this health application. To avoid any misunderstandings: we do not use or disclose to third parties any of your data or other information obtained through your use of health applications.

Third Party Websites

Apart from websites of third parties which we engage as a processor, this privacy- and cookie policy does not apply to websites or third-party apps to which we provide a link or otherwise refer to on our Website or in our App. This also applies to links to and sharing on social media such as Twitter and Facebook. We are not responsible for the data or privacy practices of these third parties, and refer to the privacy statements of these third parties.

Cookies

When visiting our Website or App, we (and third parties we work with) may use cookies and similar technologies - like web beacons, pixels and SDK's, no matter whether these technologies install code or data on your device or not - (together "Cookies") to, for example, recognize you, improve the user-friendliness of our Website and App and measure the effectiveness of our Website, App and promotions. Certain aspects and features of our Website and App are only available through the use of Cookies. When you disable or decline certain cookies, your use of our Website or App may be limited or not possible. For more information with regard to the Cookies we use, please read our Cookie policy (opens in a new window).

How long do we store your personal data?

We do not store your personal data longer than legally permitted, legally obliged and/or necessary for the purposes for which those data are processed.

Protection of your personal data

We will do all we can and have taken appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data against loss and misuse or unauthorized access.

Your rights

When we process your personal data, you have the right to access, rectification, and erasure of your personal data, and the right to restrict the processing thereof, subject to certain conditions. In addition, you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data and the right to have your personal data transferred. You can send an e-mail to these ends with your name and contact information to privacy-requests@meditationmoments.com. In your request, please specify as much as possible which personal data you refer to. In general, we will respond within four weeks to a request for inspection or correction. In case of a deletion request we will delete the personal data as soon as possible, unless and to the extent that the law requires us to keep the personal data or if there are other compelling reasons to oppose removal. After the execution of a deletion request we will send you a message of confirmation. If the personal data is (partially) not deleted, we will send you a message in which we explain why your request could not (fully) be met. If we cannot identify which personal data are meant by a request for inspection, correction or deletion, we may ask you to specify your request in more detail. We suspend the execution of the request until you have provided us with such detailed specification.

If you have given us permission to process your personal data, you can revoke this consent at any time. Revoking your consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent provided before the revocation. Finally, you have the right to submit a complaint to the Dutch Data Protection Authority (Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens) by visiting www.autoriteitpersoonsgegevens.nl/en.

Modification of this privacy statement

We reserve the right to modify this privacy statement. We therefore recommend you to regularly check our App and Website for the latest version.
